The accompanying charts of the first four generations of the descendants of Richard and Abigail Stockton have been carefully compiled from the public and private records of very many places and persons and while the utmost care has been taken and the result is believed to be correct yet it is unavoidable perhaps that some errors should have crept in or that omissions should have occurred and the compiler will be very grateful to any one who will point them out to him for correction and addition in future editions.

Some differences from what has already been published on the Stockton family will be noticed by the careful reader, but there is documentary proof or valid evidence for any such change and the compiler hopes at some future day to be able to present his work with its proof in book form for the judgment of those best qualified to decide the questions. The most important change is in the English ancestry of the emigrant, but for this there is testimony of John Bowne of Flushing, Long Island, a contemporary, who opposite an account with Richard Stockton has written the note that "Richard Stockton's uncle Thomas, is a physician living at Cold Harbor, London." A search has been and is now being made in England to establish this point, and so far the results have established the fact that there have been Stocktons there since 1509 and that 15D 1620 John Stockton and Ann Grettam of that place were married at St. Ann's Blackfriars, London by special license. No record of the children of this marriage has been found, but it is not impossible that Richard Stockton the emigrant was such and a search is now being made to establish or disprove the hypothesis.

So far nothing has turned up to militate against the possession of the commonly accepted Stockton arms by the American branch of the family and there are several reasons for believing that the London and Cheshire Stocktons are the same branch and the compiler has therefore felt justified in using the Arms as a vignette without thereby implying anything as to the American branch's right to the coat.

It has been impossible to quote the authority for each statement in the charts separately, and a general list of authorities is therefore appended to this foreword.

Elias Roudinot Stockton

West Orange, N. J.
December 7, 1909

These charts do not contain the records of any of the so-called "Virginia Stocktons" who are the descendants of the Rev. Jonas Stockton, a church of England clergyman who came out to Virginia and took charge of the parishes of Elizabeth City and Bermuda Hundred in 1624. The compiler is now at work on his descendants and hopes at some future day to publish the results.

The dissemination of the first impressions of these charts in a single large sheet called forth so much new material and so many queries that it was decided to thoroughly revise the whole and publish in its present form rather than to attempt as most critics suggested issuing a sheet of corrections and additions. This has now been done with the exceptions of the descendants of Sarah and Hannah, daughters of Richard and Abigail Steckten, where the changes involved were so many and so traditional as to involve a great deal of proving from and searching in the records to verify. The charts have therefore been sent out leaving these two sheets unrevised and as soon as the work of revising and correcting them can be completed new charts of these two will be furnished each purchaser free of cost to replace the ones now enclosed.

1. RICHARD STOCKTON¹

b. S 1707
m. ABIGAIL

She was probably the mother of all his children given below, but possibly also his second wife. She was living 14 Apr 1714

Born in or near London, he emigrated to Massachusetts Bay Colony probably in 1685 and spent several years in Boston or Charlestown, being in the latter place as late as 1690. He next appears at Flushing I.S. where he is named as one of the original patentees of that town, and in virtue of this, all direct male descendants are eligible to the Holland Society of New York. In 1686 he joined in the petition for the remitting of the penalty imposed by Director-general Stuyvesant on William Hallett for aiding and abetting a Baptist preacher and in 1687 he was one of the remonstrators against the persecution of the Quakers by the Director-general and Council.

22 Apr 1685 he was commissioned by Gov. Nicolls lieutenant of the Horse Company of Flushing, and in 1689 he was elected lieutenant of the Flushing fort company which he declined. Between 1670-7 he became affiliated with the Society of Friends and in 1690 he removed to Springfield Town, Burlington Co. N.J. with his family, where he died.

His descendants are eligible for Colonial Wars and Barges.

My dear Mr. Greenlaw:-

Your letter requesting the gift of a copy of the " Stockton Genealogy" has just been received and I have instructed the publishers to send you a copy which you should receive in a short time.

Very truly yours,

E. Boudinot Stockton
